HUNLEY WATERS, SOUTH CAROLINA'S FIRST GREEN-BUILT, WATERFRONT COMMUNITY, LAUNCHES INTERACTIVE WEB SITE FEBRUARY 2008

NORTH CHARLESTON, SC—February 21, 2008—Construction of Hunley Waters, South Carolina's first and only green-built, private, waterfront community, is well underway and houses are on track to be set in early March 2008. This new in-fill development, built within the Noisette community and situated on the banks of Noisette Creek, features thirty-six elevated, quality-built, ecologically-sensitive coastal cottages, a central pond, park benches, tree-lined sidewalks, a walking trail along the riverbank and a community pavilion and dock. The Hunley Waters team recently unveiled a new interactive web site that includes extensive details about home construction, landscaping, "green" building, the local community and a full gallery of floor plans, renderings and site photos. The new web site can be viewed at www.hunleywaters.com.

The site was designed by Yve Assad of Yve Assad Photography & Graphic Design in Charleston, and Mike Ward of Consult MDW in Columbia. Guests to the site will have the opportunity to learn more about the building techniques and materials used by Hunley Waters' builder, Haven Custom Homes, who was recently awarded with "Home of the Year" by Professional Builder and the National Association of Home Builders for their work on the 2007 Southern Living Idea House. Additionally, the web site features information about Hunley Waters' EarthCraft Level 2 certification and EarthCraft mortgage savings, the benefits of green building, the sustainable landscaping scheme designed by Design Works, LLC, a photo gallery, energy-efficient construction, amenities, home renderings and site plans, maps, local resources and the advantages to living and working in North Charleston. The site is designed to give both Charleston area residents and those considering a move from out of town an in-depth look at both the Hunley Waters neighborhood, as well as the surrounding Noisette community, which is currently undergoing rapid and remarkable growth.
